COMBATTANTS ARE EXHAUSTED

German Army is Forced all Along Great Semicircle.

BRITISH SHIPS AID.

Believed That Attacks of Kaiser's Troops in Flanders Have Passed the Crest of Their Power.

Paris, Oct. 29—With the allied liens holding the ground gained early today in the Dixmude-Nieuport region, where the German right was forced to withdraw fifteen miles after a week of furious fighting, the French and British in the Ypres and Arras is assuming a vigorous offensive and pushing back the Germans at several points according to the official communique this afternoon.

Paris Oct. 29—Exhausted to the limit of human endurance by seven days of the most furious fighting of the war, the German right has been forced back all along the great semicircular line extending from La Bassee to the coast, according to a dispatch this morning from the battle front.

In the vicinity of Dixmude and Roulers, where the German cavalry and artillery have alternated at hammering the allied lines, the advance forces of the Kaiser have been compelled to withdraw fifteen miles to the north and east, says early reports of the day's operations.

From every source come advices that the German offensive last night had been effectively checked by the terrible slaughter all along the line of the Belgian battle. Casualties on both sides are said to be enormous, but it is estimated that losses of the invaders are more than twice those of the allies.

The final effort of the German offense came last night when they attempted two surprise assaults during the night, which cost both sides dearly, but which ended in defeat for the Germans.

The Belgian minister in London last night received the following message from his government, at Havre:

"The situation of our troops on the Yser has improved. The fire of the enemy's artillery has slackened, being subdued by the guns of the fleet. The operations of the allies at Ypres are very satisfactory."

According to a Berlin announcement, sixteen British warships are engaged in the bombardment of the German positions near the Belgian coast. A Dover dispatch to the Central News says that a battleship has joined in the bombardment, using her twelve-inch guns, and adds that not one British warship has been struck.

A Times correspondent in Belgium says that observations from a captive British balloon reveal the terrible effectiveness of the fire of the British warships. Not a single wall remains standing in the villages of Westworke, Slype and Novie. Several other minor villages are also in ruins.

The German lines have been visibly thinned to the south of Lille and St. Quentin and long the lines of trenches leading to the eastern frontier.

Paris, Oct. 29—General Joffre's dispatches strengthen the belief that the German attack in Flanders and France has passed the crest of power.

The official reports were more favorable than at any time since the German armies begun their new advance fifteen days ago after the occupation of Ostend. Today the Kaiser's troops were not merely checked but were hurled back.

The allies gained ground in Belgium to the north and east of Ypres, driving a wedge further northward between the German forces near the coast and forces operating from Ghent and Brussels. The allies outfought the Germans and advanced in the region of La Bassee, the point for many days of incessant and violent efforts by the Germans to cut the allied line in two. Elsewhere along the west flank the allied lines remains unbreakable.

The official statement that the German onslaught is moderating, together with unofficial dispatches asserting that the Germans cannot maintain their attack, warrants the conjecture that the Russian victories in Poland, the advance of the French in Lorraine and Alsace, and tremendous losses in killed and wounded in Belgium and northern France, are compelling the Germans once more to abandon an offensive campaign and are forcing them to prepare to defend their own territory.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Harley Beard, 19 years old, who murdered three members of the Massey family, is to die in the electric chair at Columbus, Ohio, December 4 for his crime committed last spring on a farm near Ironton, Ohio. The State Board of Pardons yesterday refused to recommend clemency, and it was said Governor Cox would not interfere with execution of the death sentence. Young Beard was a hired hand on the Massey farm.

Dohrman J. St. Clair, banker and wealthiest citizen of Steubenville Ohio, is fatally wounded and Charles Gilmore, fifty-five, is dead as the result of a shooting which took place yesterday morning in the office of W. I. Kinsy, oil dealer. Gilmore is supposed to have shot St. Clair and then killed himself. Police believe the shooting came as the culmination of a dispute over money.

"If the allies abolish the use of alcohol in their military service and the Germans continue drinking beer and alcoholic beverages, the ultimate outcome of the present war in Europe is settled," said a prominent government surgeon yesterday. This authority said it has been found that the alcohol habit totally unfits a man to endure the cold, that it brings on fatigue, and that it reduces the accuracy of vision and deadens the sensitive regulating mechanism of his machinery.

Prof. Julius Wolf, the political economist, in a lecture in Berlin, said: "The damage done by the Russians in East Prussia and by the French invasion of Alsace-Loraine is not much less than $250,000,000. The losses inflicted upon Russia, Belgium and France are incomparably greater, but England has been protected from anything more than the loss of her ships. The armies in the field cost $37,500,000 a day. In three months you must reckon upon a total waste of $1,750,000,000? Who will pay this enormous bill? The conquered."

Holland is feeling the pressure of the war almost as much as if she were engaged in it. The report that the Germans are massing large numbers of troops on the eastern border is causing great uneasiness. Alleged discovery of a tennis court with cement 9 feet thick on the property of a German in the vicinity of Arnhem, and statements that German spies have been active near Arnhem and at other points close to the German border, seems to intensify the anxiety of Hollanders. A Dutch army of more than 300,000 trained men is scattered at strategic points along the Belgian and German borders.

Prince Maurice of Battenberg, a cousin of King George and a son of Prince Henry, of Battenberg, has been killed on the battlefield in France. He was an officer of the King's Royal Rifle Corps.

The following official statement was issued last night regarding the rebellion in the Union of South Africa: "General Botha reports that he left Rustenburg, (a district in the west part of the Transvaal colony) on Tuesday morning and proceeded in the direction in which General Christian Beyers, with his command, was supposed to be. He came in touch with General Beyers' men in the forenoon and drove them in headlong rout the whole of the day and captured 80 of them, full armed.

A German girl spy, caught a few miles outside of Petrograd, has been court-martialed and shot. Her clothes were lined with admirably executed plans of Kronstadt and other military stations.

RUSSIANS DRIVE GERMANS BACK

Czar's Troops Are Gradually Enveloping Austrians in Galicia.

A WEEK OF FIGHTING.

Not Believed Przemysl Will Hold Out Much Longer—Scarcity of Food and Everything Else.

Petrograd, Oct. 29—The entire Russian army is again advancing against the Austro-German forces. Advices from the front indicate that the Austrian troops in Galicia are being enveloped by the Russian left, while the Russian center and right are driving the Germans back upon their advanced lines of defense inside of the East Prussia frontier.

After more than a week of fighting along the San river, the Austrians have now commenced to retreat from the southern section. The only thing which is interfering with the advance of the entire Russian left wing is the stubborn resistance being maintained by the fortress of Przemsyl.

Energetic efforts are being made to reduce it, and it is believed that it will not be able to resist more than a few days longer. Already breaches have been made in the outer walls. Prisoners who were captured following an unsuccessful sortie state that the medical supplies are running very short, and that there is also a scarcity of food.

The Germans in East Prussia are plainly depending on their artillery to check the Russian advance while their demoralized forces can reform and refit. Large quantities of ammunition and supplies of every sort, as well as a number of pieces of artillery had to be abandoned because of becoming bogged in the retreat from the vicinity or Warsaw. An enormous number of prisoners have been taken all along the battle front.

PAULDING MAY BE TOTAL LOSS

Destroyer Imbedded In Sand—Part Of Crew Rescued.

Norfolk Va., Oct. 29—Embedded in six feet of sand and fast being driven nearer the shore, the torpedo boat destroyer Paulding, which went ashore during a severe gale Tuesday morning may prove a total loss. Government experts do not believe the craft can be saved unless there is an unusually high tide and she can be raised from her bed of sand by derricks.

Part of her crew were taken on board the auxiliary Panther yesterday. Several of them were bruised from being tossed about while the Paulding was at the mercy of the gale.

Several divers examined the hull of the boat and reported that she is taking in some water in one compartment but that the leak is immaterial.

Powerful blow pipes were used in an effort to clear the sand from around the hull, but they did not prove successful and were abandoned.

The Panther has a line to the Paulding, but she is held so firmly by the sand it would mean the destruction of the boat if an effort was made to pull her into deep water.

Practically every torpedo-boat destroyer in the Atlantic flotilla was damaged by the storm, The Cummings, Fanning Jenkins, Jarvis and McCall lost anchors and in trying to keep under way in the storm several of them ran short of oil.

The Fanning lost a propeller and when the Juett was placed in drydock yesterday it was found that she had lost both of her propellers and that her port shaft was cracked. The Burrows, with a hole in her starboard bow was also placed in drydock yesterday. Her officers and crew made a heroic effort to rescue the Paulding and came near being cast upon the same sand bar.

IMPRESSIVE RITE OF CONSECRATION

Rev. William C. Brown, D. D., Becomes Bishop Coadjutor.

SEVEN BISHOPS JOIN.

Certificates and Testimonials Read by Prominent Priests and Laymen—Large Gathering.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 29—In the presence of a great assemblage of prelates, priests, deacons and laymen, gathered together in St. James Church, Rev. William Cabell Brown, D. D., was consecrated yesterday as bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and was set apart for service as Bishop-Coadjutor of the Diocese of Virginia. Seven bishops laid their hands upon his head, and in conformity with the tenets of their faith, transmitted to him the episcopal suthority vested in them by apostolic succession.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the hour set for the service by the presiding bishop, the procession, composed of the bishops, the bishop-elect, the minor clergy in attendance, the laymen who were to take part in the ceremony and the choir of the church formed in the vestibule. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, rector of St. James, offered the brief introductory prayer, the organ began the strains of the opening hymn, and the participants, all robed and vested, save the two representatives of the laity, moved up the aisle singing the triumphant hymn, "Ancient of Days, Who Sittest Throned in Glory."

When the chancel was reached, the choir marched into the stalls, but the clergy, who followed immediately after, halted in the aisle and formed in two lines, between which moved the bishops, the bishop-elect and his attending presbyters. The presiding bishop, Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, D. D, Bishop of Missouri, and the six others, Rt. Rev. Robert A. Gibson, D. D. Bishop of Virginia; Rt. Rev. A. M. Randolph, D. D., Bishop of Southern Virginia; Rt. Rev. Lucien L. Kinsolving, D. D., Bishop of Southern Brazil,; Rt. Rev. Beverly R. Tucker, D. D., Bishop-Coadjutor of Southern Virginia; Rt. Rev. W. L. Gravatt, D. D., Bishop-Coadjutor of West Virginia, and Rt. Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, D. D., president of the board of missions, proceeded within the sanctuary.

Bishop Kinsolving, for many years an associate of Dr. Brown, in missionary work in Brazil, preached the sermon. From the text "Paul, a servant to Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,'' Romans, i 1, he delivered a forceful and brilliant address.

At the conclusion of the sermon, Bishops Gravatt and Tucker, descending from the chancel, escorted Dr. Brown forward to the altar rail, and there presented him to the consecrators, Bishops Tuttle, Randolph and Gibson, who were seated, Bishop Tuttle in the centre.

Rev. H. B. Lee, of Charlottesville declared that certain canonical requirements had been complied with. Rev. W. J. Morton, of Alexandria—produced evidence that a majority of the standing committees, fifty-five in number, had ratified and approved Dr. Brown's election, and Bishop Lloyd announced a like ratification by a majority of the house of bishops.

The bishop-elect then gave the promise of conformity to the consecrators, and turning, repeated the promise to the clergy and congregation, whereupon the presiding bishop rising called the assemblage to prayer, in the words of the office, and Rev. Ernest Stires, D. D., rector of St. Thomas's Church, New York, a classmate at the Theological Seminary of the bishop-elect, read the litany, with its special supplication.

Then, with the other bishops, Bishop Brown went up into the sanctuary and they all partook of Holy Communion.

When the benediction had been pronounced by Bishop Tuttle, the service was concluded with the recessional hymn, "O, Zion, Haste, Thy Mission High Fulfilling,'' to which the bishops, clergy and choir marched out of the church.

HOT TEA DOWN WIFE'S BACK.

Wilmington Woman Accuses Husband of Cruelty.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Fannie Ingram accused her husband, Howard R. Ingram, a musician in the Municipal Court yesterday of pouring hot tea down her back. The specific charge of the wife was nonsupport. The case was continued for a fortnight to give the husband a chance to make a defense.

When Judge Churchman asked the wife if her husband was cruel toward her, she said:

"He poured hot tea down my back. Then he placed me in a closet and locked the door. The next night he turned out the lights in the house and forbade me lighting them. Soon afterward I missed my Sunday School book and was told by my husband he had thrown it from the window at night into an open lot. I hunted in vain for the book."

Mrs. Ingram also declared her husband had not contributed to her support.

GIVE THEIR BLOOD

Transfusion From Veins of Men and Women.

Paris, Oct. 29—Military medical authorities in Lyons have issued this appeal to the population:

"There are many wounded who are so exhausted from the loss of blood that the only chance of saving their lives is by prompt transfusion from the veins of healthy, strong, living men or women. Those who wish to offer their blood for such transfusion are invited to give their names to the Hotel Dieu."

No sooner had this notice appeared in local press than volunteers presented themselves, and Dr. Carrel, the famous Franco-American surgeon pathologist of the Rockfellow Institute, now head of one of the Lyons hospitals, was able immediately to aid several patients.

Three days ago there were already 120 names at the Hotel Dieu, representing rich and poor and all classes of society. Women were conspicuous in the list.

REJECTS PARTIAL SEGREGATION

Tax Commissioners Vote 7 to 3 Against Plan of Former Auditor.

TO STILL HOLD IDEA.

Defeated Plan May be Championed in Legislature by Senator Buchanan and Delegate Weaver.

Richmond, Oct. 2.—As anticipated, the vote on the partial segregation plan of taxation, which is championed by Captain Donohoe and two others of the Tax Commission members, was taken yesterday, and the majority voted against segregation. By a majority vote the commission thus rejects the system so strongly advocated by the former State Auditor. The vote resulted as follows:

For partial segregation—Buchanan, Donohoe and Weaver—3.

Against segregation—Chairman Echols, Pitts, Harman, Page, Anderson, Chalkley and Montague—7.

It is probable that Senator Buchanan will champion the partial segregation plan in the Senate and Delegate A. G. Weaver in the House of Delegates when the General Assembly meets in special session this winter.

The Tax Commission will probably vote today on other minor reports, which have been submitted, adopting or rejecting the different propositions offered. The schedule prepared for the central commission plan by the various committees appointed to consider specified subjects of taxation, such as insurance companies, railroads and other tax-yielding sources, are likewise to come up in turn for action.

It was stated yesterday that the Tax Commission is making every possible effort to speed the report consistent with intelligent and comprehensive handling of the important business in hand. It is known that a part of the report to the Governor has been in the hands of the public printer for some days. It will be transmitted by the Governor to the General Assembly at the special session, the date of which is yet to be determined.

AMERICA WELL GUARDED.

Fortifications Never Would Be Attacked, Says a Congressman.

Louisville, Oct. 29—"The United States is so well fortified with the exception of two points, where work now is in progress, that an attack from the sea probably never will be made on any of these fortifications," said Representaive Swager Sherley, in an authorized statement here yesterday. He is chairman of the House Committee on Fortifications and is campaigning in the Fifth Kentucky district, seeking re-election to the House.

"The theory upon which the fortifications have been constructed," he said, leading up to the subject with a discussion of the 17-inch guns used by the Germans in Belgium, the existence of which, he said, he doubted, "is to protect important harbors from a direct attack by a hostile fleet. This has been done, except at San Pedro, Cal., where emplacements for guns are being built, and the mouth of the Chesapeake, where land has been acquired and estimates shortly will be submitted for the placing 16-inch guns along with other armament that should protect that entrance.

"Our guns are of the most modern pattern and are capable of destroying the most modern superdreadnought. Whether it may be thought advisable in the future to prepare certain minor defenses in the rear of our coast fortifications is a matter about which there is some difference of opinion and which likely will continue to receive consideration at the hands of the war college and the general staff."

WAR JUST BEGINNING

Ex-President of France Confident Allies Will Conquer.

Paris, October 29—That the war is only beginning is the opinion expressed by Armand Fallieres, expresident of France, in an interview published by the newspaper France de Bordeaux, says a dispatch to the Havre News Agency from the French temporary seat of government.

"Months and months," M. Fallieres says, "will be required to overcome the military power of the enemy, but this does not produce discouragement in France. Our country has acquired the new virtue of constancy in efforts.

"We shall certainly be victorious for without reckoning our ardent patriotism and our inexhaustible moral and material resources, we have on our side Russia and Great Britian with her strengh and her tenacity and Belgium as well as Servia and finally we possess the moral support of entire humanity which loves the ideal of liberty.

"We are fighting for our land, our homes, our wives and our children, but the admirable Belgians are struggling for their honor and for the respect of their plighted word. What an example for the world in front of a savage Germany and an Emperor intoxicated with pride.

"The right will not fall and France will not perish. Should we sacrifice our last man and should we be compelled to call out our last reserves, I am ready to go. There is only one motto—absolute confidence."

JUDGEMENT ON ASSASSINS

Prinzig Who Kills Archduke And Wife Gets Twenty Years.

Sarayevo Bosnia, via London, Oct. 29—Judgement was passed yesterday on the assassins of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg.

Gavrio Prinzig, the actual assassin, escaped with a sentence of imprisonment for twenty years. Four of the conspirators were sentenced to death by hanging one to life imprisonment, two including Medeljo Gabrinovio, who threw at the archduke a bomb which did not explode, to twenty years; one to sixteen years one to thirteen years, two to ten years, one to seven years and two to three years.

The other defendants were acquitted.

DROWNED IN CHESAPEAKE

Woman Left With Daughters When Husband Sinks.

Washed overboard by a heavy wave that swept across his launch, W. E. Ward, formerly of Syracuse, N. Y., was drowned in the presence of his wife and two daughters early Tuesday morning in the Chesapeake Bay off Taylor's Island.

In the darkness Mrs. Ward and the two girls battled with the gale for three hours and at dawn were rescued by George and Charles Kahl, of Baltimore who saw their distress from the shore. Their boat is being battered to pieces off Taylor's Island.

Mr. Ward and his wife and two daughters, Christle and Leona, the latter of whom are 17 and 12 years old, respectively, were on their way from their old home in Syracuse to Florida, where Mr. Ward had bought a five-acre farm. Several months ago the family left Syracuse and following the Erie Canal in their glass covered boat, cruised to the Hudson River and thence to New York. From the latter place the family journeyed down the coast to Philadelphia and then through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal to Baltimore, where it remained a month. Last Sunday the little party boarded their launch, which was called the Leona and they proceeded down the bay.

All went well until 3 o'clock Tuesday morning when during a heavy gale, Mr. Ward was swept to death from the deck of the craft.

Helpless in the storm-swept ship the three huddled close together for the moment unable to move a hand to help themselves. Crushing their grief, however they set themselves to do what they could to help themselves. It was very little. Attempts were made to keep the engine running, but these failed. The steering apparatus was working, however, and the frantic widow tried to keep the little prow of the boat headed to the wind, so that the waves which were running high would not capsize their boat.

For three hours they battled against the storm and their boat was fast being driven against the rocks off the shore when their plight was noticed by the Kahls, who have a summer home in Dorchester county Md. The two Baltimoreans procured a launch and fought their way through the breakers until they reached the launch and rescued the survivors.

SHOULD BE RETURNED.

Charles C. Carlin ought to be returned to Congress from the Eighth District by a greatly increased majority at the election next Tuesday. He was never more necessary to his party and State than he will be in the next Congress. He was never better qualified for effective service than he is now never so fully in the confidence of the Administration, never with so enviable a record of high responsibilities faithfully discharged. In the long session which adjourned last Saturday Mr. Carlin stood the endurance test with admirable fidelity deeming it his first duty to render the service for which he was chosen by his people and confident that they would take care of him when the time came for his re-election. And so when conferences were to be held on vital questions of legislation and votes to be taken, the member of Congress from the Eighth District was invariably at his post He could not find time to make a thorough canvass of his District so intent was he upon the duty for which he had been selected and in the contest next Tuesday he must rely, and we are sure he will rely confidently, upon the people whose interests he has guarded.

The record of Mr. Carlin's service in the present Congress establishes his claim to the approval of all the people. His most effective work was done in the antitrust legislation by which it is hoped to protect the people more fully from the exactions of the great combinations of capital that have heretofore made individual efforts in the industrial field practically impossible. Mr. Carlin is the ranking member of the Judiciary Committee of the House and upon the appointment of Mr. Clayton to the United States Bench the work of that committee was largely shifted to his shoulders, and how well he carried the burden the legislation of Congress attests.

Possesing the confidence of the great body of his colleagues in the House and of the President, Mr. Carlin is better prepared than ever to render greater service to his district and State. No new man, whatever his fitness, could hope to match the effectiveness of this man in legislative work. There is a great advantage in position, and position in the House of Representatives comes only as the reward of service. It would be the worst possible thing that could happen to the people of the Eighth District to put in a new man, any new man, to serve them as effectively as Mr. Carlin; especially would it be a blunder that could not be repaired to send to Congress a Representative who would be out of touch from the beginning with the party in power and with the whole body of the House. There will be work in the next Congress that only men who are men of influence and character and experience can do—work of construction and adjlstment, work in making what has been accomplished in the present body of the largest benefit to the country, work in making the rule of the people under the administration of a Democratic President secure for all time. This work cannot be done by experiments in changing Congressmen who know for Congressmen who would have to learn.

Mr. Carlin's claim to re-election is his record. The best proof of his fitness for higher and better service is the service he has rendered, a service which is approved by his fellows in Congress and by the President, the leader of his party and the hope of the country. Every man in the Eighth District should vote for Carlin at the election next Tuesday.

THE SHAMBLES OF EUROPE.

The struggle now in progress in Europe while Germany is fighting France, England and Russia, is frightful, and the accounts of the fearful carnage cause the civilized world to stand aghast. It is no longer simply an engagement between hostile armies, conducted according to the rules of war, but at times it degenerates into veritable massacres. In instances no quarters are shown and the deadly bayonet is wielded with dreadful effect. While in scriptural danguage, the blood has not reached the high tide mark when it will flow to the horses' bridles there is no telling what horrors may develop if it is is continued much longer. Persons in positions to know say it will continue at least eighteen months longer, and probably extend still further.

The lives of men are being sacrificed to a fearful extent. In fact, human beings do not seem to be much more regarded than flies during a swatting crusade.

The following paragraphs are suggestive, and they are merely specimens of those published daily:

Telegrams received in Basle, Switzerland, Tuesday night from Cologne and Coblenz declare that the war on the German right flank from Lillie to the North Sea has become a massacre. During the last six days, it is declared, many thousands of Germans have been killed or wounded. Long trains containing wounded continue to pour into Cologne, Duesseldorf and Coblenz, it is stated.

A dispatch from Flushing, Holland, says: "The German losses at the Nieuport-Dixmude line are estimated at 16,000 killed and 30,000 wounded. During Sunday four hundred vehicles loaded with wounded soldiers passed through Ostend.

The German emperor seems to have become desperate. His orders are to take Calais and Dunkirk regardless of the sacrifice of men or munitions. The allies continue to make stubborn resistance, and the country which forms the great battlefield is lined all the time with the dead and dying.

The armies have been forced to desist long enough for the belligerents to catch their breath. Both sides are actually exhausted.

An old fable represents a lion and a bear fighting over the carcass of a sheep until both were exhausted. While in a helpless condition from loss or blood, a fox, which had been watching the encounter, crept up and carried off the sheep. The Germans and the English, after both shall have become hors de combat, may be compelled to see some small powers, regarded now as bantams among the nations, profit at the outcome of this frightful war.

THE BRITISH ARMY

Force of United Kingdom Now 1,500,000.

London Oct. 29—The British army on rolls and drilling in the United Kingdom now amounts approximately to 1,500,00 men. Of this total about 800,000 men belong to what is termed "Kitchener's army"—men who have responded to his two calls for 500,000 soldiers to serve three years or for the duration of the war.

About 600,000 belong to the territorials, while the remainder are enrolled with the special reserves, so called, or with the regular army and have seen service previously.

The territorials are considered the flower of the force, as a great majority of them belong to the middle and upper middle classes and are men accustomed to athletic pursuits. Both physically and mentally they are considered by military men to be about the finest body of its numbers ever assembled under arms.

HUNDREDS KILLED

All Gunners and 250 Others Blown to Fragments When Gun Blows up

Madrid, Oct. 29.—The story of how one of the German great forty-two centimeter guns exploded, leaving a fearful mark of death and destruction, is told in a dispatch received from its correspondent in north France by the newspaper El Imparcial.

He states that this particular gun was being used by the Germans at "a certain point" on their right wing, when it exploded as the result of an overcharge.

"All the gunners and 250 additional troops in the immediate vicinity were instantly killed, being literally blown to pieces," says he dispatch.

"Mangled bodies and limbs fell on a cavalry regiment, while fragments of shell and bodies literally sprayed the infantry several miles from the actual scene of the explosion, killing and wounding several."

What Would You Do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value Mrs. O. E. DISTRESS IN JERUSALEM.

War Has Stopped Tourists And Charity Gifts

New York, Oct. 29.—One hundred thousand inhabitants of Jerusalem are facing starvation, according to Samuel Edelman, American Vice-Counsel in that city, who reached here yesterday on the steamer Ancona.

Two-thirds of the residents of Jerusalem are Jews, Mr. Edelman said. For many years they have depended upon their earnings from tourists and upon charity for support, and the war has cut off all their sources of subsistence.

There are no industries in the city and little cultivation of the surrounding territory. The cold and rainy season is now approaching and indications are that the suffering there soon will be intense, Mr. Edelman asserted.

FOOD FOR BELGIUM.

First Shipment Purchased by American Commission.

London, Oct. 29.—The Dutch steamship Coblentz sailed from England last night for Rotterdam with the first 1,000 tons of food purchased by the American commission for the relief of the Belgian people. Coincident with the departure of this ship, the Belgian Government has announced that hereafter all movements for supplying Belgium with food must be conducted through the American commission, which is the sole body authorized by all governments concerned, both belligerents and neutrals, to perform this task.

This announcement was made because a group of wealthy Ostend residents, wishing to contribute $10,000 yesterday, failed to get into touch with the commission until they had cabled to Washington.

All contributions and supplies will be under the protection of the American and Spanish diplomatic representatives, but the actual work of distribution will be in the hands of the American commission.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

Lewis H. Machen Says We Can Have no Good Government Where There is Ignorance.

Richmond. Oct. 29—"The choice of the term 'compulsory' in connection with the school attendance law, which will come before the voters of Richmond next Tuesday is an unfortunate one on first sight. It sounds undemocratic—almost un-American."

Thus spoke R. C. Stearns, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressing the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia yesterday on the several phases of education problem in Virginia to-day.

"Compulsory does not mean that the law is going to step in and interfere arbitrarily in families that have the welfare of their children at heart" continued Mr. Stearns, "but it does mean that the children of Jones, the drunkard will be given a chance in life, and not be forced to run wild because of neglectful parents."

Mr. Stearns showed in round figures that it is the poor white children who are losing their chances through the absence of this law on the statute books. The negro, he said is doing commendable work for his race in Richmond, and is greatly reducing the percentage of illiteracy.

Lewis H. Machen, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, supplemented the statement of the first speaker, declaring emphatically that education was not a private matter at all.

"No one has a right to breed criminals in my neighborhood, and lack of public education means just that. We can have no good government where there is ignorance. Progress and freedom means education in Virginia."

OUTWITTED BY FRENCH

Germans Lured From Trenches to Be Slaughtered.

Paris, Oct. 29—This is how a portion of the German lines northeast of Ypres was taken Tuesday according to officers who have arrived in Paris from the battle line. A series of light four-inch, 3-inch field batteries, each invisible from the front, were disposed behind the natural cover of undulations in the fields, bits of wood, ruined farhouses or dry ravines.

The guns, worked to their full capacity of four shells to the minute, sprayed bursting projectiles over the German trenches in a wide belt before, over and just behind the adversaries. The German infantry, as long as they kept inside the covered trenches, were secure except from the chance of shells falling directly through the narrow space left for rifle and machine gun fire.

The French infantry, from the rear of their own line of trenches, got up as if for the usual run for the German lines. The French guns at a moment agreed upon, ceased their fire and the Germans, supposing the usual charge rush was coming, ordered up their reserve infantry, who were held outside of the shell zone, to support the slender lines in their trenches.

The French infantry, although firing heavily, did not charge. The French artillery changed their range and at a signal by telephone from the French trenches caught the Ger- 1,000 yards behind their works with a shattering shell fire which broke formations and seemed to bring down a third of the men in the line. They simply could not advance through the section of bursting shells.

The French infantry then charged and won their way through the fire from the German trenches, which they took over with the bayonet.

REACHING OUT FOR ALBANIA

Action of Greece it is Thought Will Encourage Italy.

Paris, Oct 29—The action of Greece in occupying the southern end of Albania is regarded by competent observers here to be news of great moment and which may cause Italy also to occupy a part of Albania.

Italians already have landed in Albania, a naval force having occupied the seaport of Avlona on Oct. 26. The expedition, according to a dispatch from Rome, was in the nature of a relief and sanitary organization.

It was added that pains were being taken to show that Italy's step was merely for the purpose of seeing that the decision of the London conference creating an autonomous Albania was carried out.

A LARGE CONTRACT.

What Leadbeater & Sons Wants Every Person in Alexandria to do.

When Leadbeater & Sons the enterprising druggists first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, they thought it probable from their experience with other medicines for these diseases, that they would have a good many packages returned. But although they have sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

To those suffering with dizziness headache poor indigestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel uncomfortable after eating, and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

While entering his home in Wheeling W. Va., through a window early yesterday, John English, aged 50, was shot and killed by his son, who thought he was a burglar.

NO QUARTER IN BATTLE

Germans Slaughtered With Bayonet By British.

London, Oct. 29—The correspondent of the Times in Northern France sends the following regarding the fighting in Belgium under Tuesday's date:

"The British fire at Ypres, after a glorious stand for five days against overwhelming odds drove the enemy back 15 miles. The German forces were commanded by the Bavarian Crown Prince who, it is reported, has been wounded.

"The British forces captured Langemarck, five miles northeast of Ypres on Friday after inflicting enormous losses on the enemy and established entrenched positions beyond the village.

"At night, after the roar of the cannon had ceased, there was suddenly a shrill whistle and brushes soaked in petroleum broke into flames, throwing a glare over the scene. Masses of men sprang up from the beet crops within a few hundred yards of our trenches and with bugle sound yell and song they come dashing forward to our position.

"Though taken by surprise our brave men were not unprepared. They took their places in the trenches and held them, pouring terrific fire into the advancing hosts.

"Answering with rifle and machine gun the enemy advanced still with the bugle playing and amid shouts of "Hoch! Hoch!" They were in dense masses and they fell by the hundreds. They got within 30 yards of the trenches when they recoiled.

"Then came three blasts of a whistle sounding the retreat. Our men sprang out of the trenches and went in among them with the bayonet. The slaughter was terrible and there were many hand to hand encounters.

"In the dim glare of the burning brushes some of the enemy threw down their arms and pleaded for mercy. No quarter however was given on either side. The work was too desperate for that. Bayonet and bullet did their work and the enemy was driven back on Roulers.

"A battery and several machine guns were captured and thousands of prisoners were taken, including a general and several other officers."

GERMAN'S OIL RUNS LOW.

Forces in Central Belgium Unable to Replenish Supply.

Brussels, Belgium, Oct. 29.—The German troops in Central Belgium have virtually exhausted their petrol supply. Oil is issued now only to high officers, and then in small quantities. The Germans seized large quantities of oil fuel here, but shipped it back to Germany. Apparently they are now unable to secure a return of this oil.

The Germans are requisitioning many second-rate horses, which they formerly had ignored, and also horse vehicles.

Thirteen men were taken to hospitals in Pittsburgh early esterday as a result of two automobile accidents, in which W. O. Stevenson, of Leechburg, Pa., and David Nicolas, of Hites, Pa., were killed. The machine in which Stevenson and Nicolas were riding collided with a street car.
